Townships to Register Per Alphabet

Stanley B. Mathewson, Columbus, state director of the National Reemployment service, today announced the opening of an office in the city building here for the registrations of the unemployed in the entire county, with the exception of four townships, Monros, Darby, Scioto and Mühlenberg. They are being handled through the Mt. Sterling office.

No unemployed persons in those four townships are eligible to register here. Registrations are being taken first in Circleville-twp. All other townships will be taken in alphabetic order during the period of registration which will cover all townships within a few days. This system will eliminate confusion and congestion at the employment office.

IAMS IN CHARGE

William Iams, of Columbus, is in charge of setting up the office here and will be assisted by three interviewers and two clerks, neither of whom have yet been named. "We want to make it clear," Mr. Iams said, "that the first to register may not be the first to be selected when jobs are available. Placements are made according to qualifications."

The National Reemployment service has no connection with the Civil Works Administration nor with any other branch of the recovery plan.

Since 1,100 persons registered in Madison co in offices set up there, it is estimated about 1,500 will register here since Pickaway's population is 27,000 and Madison's 20,000.

Persons who have been out of employment are urged to register in order that they may be accommodated with jobs if it is at all possible. The service, Mr. Mathewson points out, is dependent upon local cooperation for the efficiency of its program. This necessitates that employers seeking additional personnel by reason of operation of the National Recovery act or for other reasons, cooperate wherever possible with the service.

PURPOSES LISTED

The purpose of the reemployment service as outlined by Mr. Mathewson and Mr. Iams are:

1. Equitable opportunity for qualified workers now unemployed.
2. Equitable geographical distribution of work opportunities.
3. Guarantee of lawful preferences.
4. Discouragement of wasteful wandering in quest of work.

Assurance of preference of local labor for federal aid projects.

Mr. Mathewson has made it plain that it is not merely the purpose of the National Reemployment office to supply a service to the needy, but also to assist those who, despite long periods of unemployment have still been able to remain self-supporting but whose slender resources are being sorely tried.

No charge will be made for registration or for any service rendered either to the employer or the unemployed.

SAMMONS BEGINS LIFE IN PRISON

CROWN POINT, Ind., Dec. 1.—James (Fur) Sammons, veteran Chicago gangster and public enemy, was taken under heavy guard to the state penitentiary at Michigan City today to serve a life sentence as an habitual criminal.

A circuit court grand jury brought Sammons' lurid 34 year criminal record to a close here last night with a verdict of guilty on two counts—being a habitual criminal and attempting to bribe a deputy sheriff who had arrested him. The jury deliberated five hours.

The mandatory sentence of life imprisonment was pronounced by Judge William Murray while a score or more of deputy sheriffs armed with shotguns, pistols and submachine guns guarded the courthouse to prevent gangster friends from rescuing the Illinois gunman.

SERVICE TO BEGIN

Rev. A. J. Bleighly, of Somerset, Pa., will begin services at the Church of the Brethren Sunday. They will continue each evening until Dec. 17. The minister comes highly recommended to the local church. Services begin at 7:30 p. m.

NRA GOAL SET ON JANUARY 1

Roosevelt Hopes To Have Entire Nation Under Codes By That Date.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Complete codification of all industries and trades in the nation by Jan. 1 was the goal set today by the NRA.

Although 143 codes have been approved by the president more than this number must be heard or be revamped for presidential approval.

Among the major codes still unapproved are those for the anthracite coal, rubber tire, construction and newspaper publishing industries.

NRA officials said they "hoped" to obtain presidential approval of the rubber tire code within the next two weeks. It was simultaneously announced, however, that completion of a master code for the construction industry, on which reemployment of nearly 5,000 persons depends, would be delayed indefinitely.

A resumed public hearing was to be held next Monday on the construction code, but this was postponed because conferences between builders, labor representatives and NRA officials had broken up this week when delegates returned to their homes for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Under the plan to complete codification of industries before the new year public hearings will be held daily on from ten to fifteen codes.

Ohio's Attorney's Trial Nears End

BENTON, Ark., Dec. 1.—With final arguments underway it appeared certain today that the murder trial of Mark H. Shank, Akron, O., attorney charged with fatally poisoning four members of one family, would go to the jury before nightfall.

Defense and prosecution rested last evening and Circuit Judge Tom E. Toler began reading instructions to the jury of farmers before court adjourned until 8:30 a. m. today. Shank is on trial for the "picnic poisoning" murder of Alvin Colley of Akron who died in agony from strychnine with his wife and their two small sons, Clement and Clarence.

Attacking the insanity defense of Shank, Prosecutors called Dr. Pat Murphy, specialist on nervous diseases, who testified that the Akron lawyer was sane when Colley was killed and is sane at present.

Head Jailer John Glidwell of the county jail at Little Rock, and two assistant testified that Shank at all times during his incarceration was normal; that he played cards with other prisoners, and took part in "kangaroo" court proceedings. In the jail he had shown no signs of

$50,600 ALLOTTED

Specification Writers Now Have All Plans

With money, $50,600, finally allocated a federal building for Circleville, long promised but never obtained, is a step nearer realization today. Announcement was made Wednesday that the money has been set aside upon orders of Public Works Administrator Ickes, who is also secretary of the interior.

If everything goes along as scheduled it is believed the job will be advertised to contractors and work will be started shortly after the first of the year.

The site has already been purchased by the government from Paul F. Hohen-Schleyer at Court and Mound-sts on property now occupied by the Hohen-Schleyer residence and the Hotel Boggs, a Circleville landmark. Mr. Hohen-Schleyer is moving his personal goods and Mrs. Irwin Boggs plans to move just across the alley into the Wellington block.

The government paid $20,000 for the property.

ALLOTMENT SLASHED

The $50,600 allotted to the project is somewhat smaller than at first anticipated. The entire job, including the site, was expected to cost $55,500 but under economy measures it has been reduced. The reduction in the case of projects for which grants have already been announced has averaged between 10 and 20 per cent.

Allocation of the money means that the local post office has been found suitable for inclusion in the public works program. The project was placed in the hands of a committee of five for study and upon this committee's recommendation hinged the outcome.

Plans for the building have already been completed. As soon as the drawings are approved they will be turned over to specification writers and since the public works allotment is now available it is expected the specifications will be drawn immediately.

The government at present rents its post office room from Denny Pickens.

170 WORK TODAY

121,000 Working State, Braught Says

Saturday will be pay day for Pickaway-co's Civil works employees, A. J. Dunkel, county administrator, announced Friday. Arrangements have been made with Barton Hall, of Logan, payroll disburser for this district.

Mr. Dunkel also disclosed that more than 170 county men were at work today under the C. W. A. The county's quota was originally set at 161 but has been increased by 4 persons. All the workmen had a holiday Thursday. They receive $15 a week for 30 hours labor.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—Declaring that the CWA payroll in Ohio tomorrow will total $2,000,000, Major E. O. Braught, executive director of Ohio's relief program, announced today that 124,000 persons were at work today under the vast employment scheme.

A total of 112,000 persons have been recruited from the state's relief lists, Braught said, and 12,000 have been taken from the federal re-employment rolls.

By next Wednesday, Braught said, it is hoped to fill the state's quota of 55,000 from the re-employment lists of the state.

Meantime, the state relief commission met in Columbus today to take up the problem of allocating the December quotas of state relief funds for direct aid. It is estimated, Braught said, that 77,250 persons are still on the Ohio relief rolls.

SMITH'S TALK BRINGS REPLY

New Yorker Nursing Grudge, Ickes Says; Public Works Plan Is Attacked.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Al Smith once the standard bearer of the Democratic party, and now one of the administrations severest critics today was described as a man "nourishing a grudge as a result of disappointed ambitions," by Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior and administrator of the Public Works Administration.

Ickes, formerly an Illinois Progressive, joined other administration spokesmen in the fight upon Smith after the happy warrior had declared the PWA was broken down and the Civil Works program set up to hide its failure.

Speaker Henry T. Rainey, also rebuked the former New York governor, saying: "If Smith doesn't want to join the procession, the procession will move on without him."

Smith's attack on the Public Works administration, appeared in the New Outlook, the publication of which he is now editor, and followed closely his satirical comment on "baloney dollars" in commenting upon the Roosevelt monetary moves.

Ickes in replying to Smith made no defense of his administration of the $3,300,000,000 Public Works fund, but observed:

"All I can say in reply to Mr. Smith's statement is that it is impossible to satisfy any man who is nourishing a grudge as the result of disappointed ambitions. Mr. Smith is permitting his resentment against the administration to run away with his judgment. He is making another mistake."

MELLON'S BROTHER DIES IN PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 1.—Richard Beatty Mellon, one of the builders of the vast Mellon business dynasty, died at his home here today.

Death was caused by pneumonia. He was 75. Mellon, a brother of Andrew W. Mellon, former secretary of the treasury and former ambassador to the Court of St. James, had been in poor health for several months.

New Official Family of City Only 30 Days Away

One month from today—on January 1—the city will have a new official family. The changes will be greater than have occurred in several years.

Mayor B. T. Hedges will be succeeded by William B. Cady after serving six years and when Mr. Hedges leaves so will two of his appointees, J. Wallace Crist, safety director, and A. J. Bert Lyle, service director.

The mayor-elect has not so much as intimated who his appointees will be. Both are important and he is giving considerable thought to his selections before making them known.

Several other appointments besides the safety and service director are to be made by the new mayor. W. S. Gearhart's term on the civil service commission is ended on January 1, and terms of E. L. Daley, Miss Grace Moodie and Mrs. T. F. Jeffries as trustees of the library board also end at that time.

Paul E. Adkins, who has served for six years as solicitor, will step aside for Carl C. Leist.

Miss Lillian Young and Lawrence J. Johnson remain as auditor and treasurer, respectively.

One change will occur on the board of education with Mrs.

Lithopolis Man Rallies to Recognize Brother; Skull Is Badly Fractured.

Stephen Smith, 40, Lithopolis truck driver, was reported "about the same" at Berger hospital, Friday. He was struck by an east bound freight train at the south-end Norfolk & Western crossing Tuesday afternoon.

Smith was unconscious until Thursday morning when he rallied sufficiently to learn that he is in the hospital. He also, recognized a brother, Thursday.

Despite the fact that he rallied somewhat he remains critical. He has a fractured skull and cuts on his head.

The injured man, who came here to obtain a load of feed, was struck while standing near the tracks. He watched a west bound train pass but did not see the east bound freight bearing down on him.

ELKS TO CONDUCT MEMORIAL RITES

Circleville's E. P. O. Elks lodge No. 77 will join other lodges of the order in Memorial services Sunday afternoon which the public is invited to attend.

Max C. Seyfert Jr. will deliver the principal address of the day. The memory of all Elks who have passed away will be honored. The ceremony is unusually beautiful and impressive.

The complete program for the service will be announced Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Rader and daughters, Miss Irma and Gene Rader, and son, Noel, and Miss Bernice Dearth spent Thanksgiving in Somerset guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Axline.

White's Opinion Advanced by Ohio Leader

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—Declaring a new bombshell, the proposed state-municipal control plan of the George White administration, Ohio Anti-Saloon League came out with "unmistakable" position to any government participation in liquor traffic.

The stand of the general Saloon League, which is public by Superintendent McNaught, was based on the eve of the closing state legislature in session next Wednesday to solve problem of liquor control in state of Ohio.

It followed an announcement by Governor White that the week that Ohio would co-operate in a program to secure control of liquor control in the state.

Roper Committee for Perpetuating Old Deal In Radio Broadcasts

WASHINGTON—A secret move is on foot to perpetuate the present monopoly which the big broadcasting companies have on choice wave lengths.

It is being worked out behind closed doors by the so-called Roper Radio Committee. Appointed by the Secretary of Commerce originally to bring a new deal for radio, the committee actually is working to continue the old deal.

Members of the committee include Senator Dill of Washington, Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas, Assistant Secretary of Commerce Dickinson, and Herbert L. Petter, Secretary of the Federal Radio Commission. What they are trying to do is get their report adopted by the White House before the general public knows about it, before opposition can develop.

Interests opposed to the present dominance of the two great broadcasting chains are urging open hearings. They claim that the $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 annually which the broadcasting companies get from advertising should not be limited to a closed corporation.

So far they have made little progress. It looks as if the old deal for radio would continue.

Note—Among the unpaid bills listed by the Democratic National Committee are: $107,571.71 owed to the National Broadcasting Company and $47,650.50 owed to the Columbia Broadcasting Company.

Officers and Trees

Japanese military attaches in Washington are taking a lot of interest in the Citizens Conservation Camps and the fact that army officers are in charge of them. They also wonder why naval officers have been detailed to C. C. C. duty. Apparently Japanese suspect the camps of being a disguised method of training reserves.

"Why do you put so many young officers in charge of the C. C. C. units?" asked one assistant Japanese military attaché. "I can't understand why you should detail general staff officers to this duty. Tell me," he persisted, "are they good for the trees?"

Postponement

It looks like Santa Claus is going to pay an early call on gas and oil users.

Those inside the Oil Administration say that price-fixing is due for another postponement. December 1 was the date originally fixed for the boost in rates to become effective. But now this date is to be carried over to January 1, perhaps even later.

Reason for the postponement is the conviction by Secretary Ickes, and Nathan Margold, Chairman of the Petroleum Administrative Board, that important changes in price schedules are in order.

They want additional information on the cost of producing, refining, and transporting petroleum. The National Association of Truck-side Filling Stations has filed a formal protest with the Oil Administration charging that its proposed price schedules will cost consumers many millions of dollars.

With Ickes, protection of the consuming-public is a definite passion.

Merry-Go-Round

The latest contribution to the Treasury's collection of portraits of former Secretaries is that of "Oggie" Mills. The picture is a three-quarters length oil painting showing "Oggie" standing by a chair with one of his specially made Corona-Coronas prominently displayed in his hand. The painting, paid for by Mills, hangs in the Secretary's outer office.

One month from today—on January 1—the city will have a new official family. The changes will be greater than have occurred in several years.

Mayor B. T. Hedges will be succeeded by William B. Cady after serving six years and when Mr. Hedges leaves so will two of his appointees, J. Wallace Crist, safety director, and A. J. 'Bert' Lyle, service director.

The mayor-elect has not so much as intimated who his appointees will be. Both are important and he is giving considerable thought to his selections before making them known.

Several other appointments besides the safety and service director are to be made by the new mayor. W. S. Gearhart's term on the civil service commission is ended on January 1, and terms of E. L. Daley, Miss Grace Moodie and Mrs. T. F. Jeffries as trustees of the library board also end at that time.

Paul E. Adkins, who has served for six years as solicitor, will step aside for Carl C. Leist.

Miss Lillian Young and Lawrence J. Johnson remain as auditor and treasurer, respectively.

One change will occur on the board of education with Mrs.

Lillian W. Moore becoming a member and Joseph R. Noecker moving out. Lawrence Goeller was re-elected to his office and Charles H. May, R. G. Colville and C. R. Barnhart are hold-over members.

The council chamber will present a greatly changed appearance when the first 1934 meeting is held on January 3. John C. Goeller, president, remains but E. S. Neuding, Mack Parrett, Jr., T. M. Barnes and Clark Will step out for Ben H. Gordon, Frank Baker, William M. Reid and Dan T. Ryan. Hold-over members are Frank A. Marlon, C. O. Leist and Julius Helwagen.

HOLIDAY TOLL HIGH IN STATE

Several Shootings Add To Violent Deaths; Auto Wrecks Fatal, Too.

By International News Service
Swelled by automobile accidents as motorists took advantage of the temperate weather for holiday excursions, Ohio's toll of violent deaths yesterday reached at least 18, a survey by International News Service revealed today.

In addition to automobile and traffic fatalities, the holiday death toll was increased by several shootings—both accidental and murderous.

Shirley Sauer, 22, was killed at Middleport by the accidental discharge of a brother's shotgun. Margaret Green, 20, was fatally wounded by a revolver bullet during a scuffle with another woman at Doanville, near Athens.

Joseph Audino, 49, described by police as Portage-co's "big shot" gambler and racketeer, was shot down at Ravenna by an unidentified assailant posing as a messenger boy. Ledell O'Neill, 26, Warren roadhouse operator died from a bullet wound believed self-inflicted because O'Neill feared prohibition repeal would bring him financial ruin, officials said.

Miss Ella Horning, 63, died at New Philadelphia after a fall, and Mrs. Bessie Bolton, 55, was burned to death at Steubenville when her clothing caught fire as she stood beside an open grate.

Clifford Kelley, 42, of Athens, a district official for the Modern Woodman of America, was killed when his automobile was struck by a train. Richard Howells, 18-year-old university student and son of a Cleveland attorney, met death in a traffic crash near Greenwich while he was on his way home from school for the holiday.

Traffic accidents cost the lives of five persons at Cleveland and another Cleveland man at Sayre, Pa. The victims were Walter Janovsky, 47; Roney D. Green, 40; Norman Davis, 11; Edward Smith, 14; Joseph Goetz, 51; and William H. Lehman, 24.

The complete program for the service will be announced Saturday.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE HITS LIQUOR PLAN

McNaught Statement Opposes "Any Government Participation"

IS "BOMBSHELL"

White's Opinion Attacked by Ohio Leader

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—Exploding a new bombshell under the proposed state-monopoly liquor control plan of the Governor George White administration, the Ohio Anti-Saloon League today came out with "unalterable opposition to any government participation in liquor traffic."

The stand of the powerful Anti-Saloon League, which was made public by Superintendent S. P. McNaught, was issued virtually on the eve of the convening of the state legislature in special session next Wednesday to consider the problem of liquor control for the state of Ohio.

It followed an expression of hope by Governor White earlier in the week that Ohio dry leaders would co-operate behind a program to secure speedy enactment of liquor control legislation for the state.

"So-called government monopoly," McNaught declared in a statement condemning the plan, "means government protection of the liquor traffic and the tagging of that traffic with government respectability. It means the government going into the liquor business, rather than restricting or prohibiting it."

McNaught charged that government control also means, "unquestionably, more political corruption than any other scheme of handling the liquor problem."

"The control or monopoly plan," he asserted, "will create a huge political machine, which cannot possibly be held in check, and which will make it possible for unscrupulous politicians to hold retail liquor permits as pawns."

McNaught also attacked the claim of Governor White that the administration plan of liquor control in Ohio is for "social control rather than revenue producing."

"SOCIAL CONTROL"
"The governor talks about the suggested program as 'social control' rather than revenue producing," but it will neither control nor bring revenue," McNaught said.

"The great cry of one wing of the wets was revenue. The cry of the other wing was reform. Under the plan endorsed by Governor White we shall have the old—

KIDNAP SUSPECT SUICIDES IN JAIL

Willie Sharkey, Acquitted With Touhy, Was Awaiting Trial in Factor Case.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 1.—His mind apparently having snapped while a defendant in the William Hamm, Jr., kidnaping trial, Willie Sharkey, Chicago gangster, hanged himself in his cell at the county jail here today.

Sharkey, although acquitted in federal court here in the Hamm kidnaping, had been suffering under the delusion, authorities said, that he was made "the goat" by both prosecution and defense.

When jail guards made their morning rounds to rouse the prisoners for breakfast they found Sharkey's body suspended from the top rung of his cell by a noose which the gangster had fashioned with his necktie. He had been dead for two hours, physicians estimated.

Sharkey and his three co-defendants in the Hamm abduction trial were being held in solitary confinement here as prisoners of the federal government, awaiting extradition to Illinois where they were to go on trial within a month for the $70,000 abduction of John "Jake" the Barber Factor, wealthy Chicago and London stock promoter.

POLICE, SHERIFF HOLIDAY QUIET

Police and sheriff's departments went through one of their quietest holidays, Thursday, with no arrests made by either office.

One man, Al Johnson, colored, was arrested Wednesday evening while stealing coal from the Pickaway Grain Co., and was ordered from town. He was arrested by M. L. Walters, merchant policeman. Robert Colville reported to police that a grey overcoat and a pair of shoes were stolen from his car parked on Pinckney-st.

ASHVILLE
SCHOOL NOTES

In a recent standardized test in the Bookkeeping class at Ashville high school the following students finished with the high marks: Jean Martin and Louise Schiesser, tied for first with grades of 97 out of a possible 100. Curtis Tigner, second with a 96 and William Bowers, third with a grade of 84. This test which is distributed by the bookkeeping text-book publishers is given to over 20,000 bookkeeping students each year and is reported to be the last word in ascertaining a student's knowledge of the subject.

In English the Freshmen are reading 'The Merchant of Venice,' a very interesting story by Shakespeare. Since Dick Allard is leaving Ashville school the Freshmen had to elect a new treasurer. Evelyn Gerhardt is going to take his place. Jane Lindsey was elected to be assistant secretary.

The following Freshmen girls are going out for basketball: Lucille Hedges, Jane Lindsey, Ruth Courtwright, Evelyn Gerhardt, Bessie Maupin, Jessie Tustin and Martha Martin.

Walter Gregg and Lewis Berry made the first squad for the boys' team.

The eighth grade had perfect attendance last week, and no cases of tardiness in the last school month.

Clarabelle Hoover of the 8th grade, has misspelled only one word in spelling during the first three months of school.

The following seventh grade students were neither absent nor tardy during the past six weeks of school: Jean Brinker, Lucille Chamberlain, Mary Margaret Kelly, Josephine Good, Ethel Hiles, Helen Kibbee, Virgie Lee, Six, Isabelle Scoles, Dorothy Spangler, Esther Spangler, Robert Courtwright, and Edwin Raver.

In the fourth grade the boys and girls made pilgrim boys and girls to decorate the top of their bulletin board.

In language class they read a story called, 'The Pilgrims.' They also memorized the poem called, 'November.'

They are reading and dramatizing a Thanksgiving play called, 'The First Thanksgiving Day.'

In spelling class they often write words with ink and the neat papers having 100's are posted.

The following fifth grade students were neither absent nor tardy for the last four weeks: Betty Brinker, John Chamberlain, Doris Cline, Billy Cloud, Helen Elmore, Mary L. Gerhardt, Margaret Glick, Edna Hunt, Beatrice Kibbee, Ray Kraft, Ruth Miller, Harold Myers, Clarence Rush, Ruth Ann Sark, Betty Scoles, Willis Short, Jr., Esther Smith, June Snyder, Jane Stevenson, George Forquer and Betty Harris.

The pupils in the first grade who have been neither absent nor tardy for the past six weeks are: Ada Lou Beckett, Louise Halford, Norma Jean Hines, Martha Stevenson, Mona Sampson, Louella Williamson, Erma Lee Younklin, Jerry Cloud, Kermit Clum, Jerry Eccard, Bill Lee Glick, Walter

Knocks and Boosts for Seadrome Idea

Opinion of aviation experts is divided as to the feasibility of maintaining a regular trans-Atlantic air service to Europe by means of the string of seadromes for experimental work on which the Public Works Administration is advancing $1,500,000 with a promise of $30,000,000 should tests prove satisfactory. Clarence Chamberlin, trans-Atlantic airman, designates the scheme as utterly impracticable, "if not suicidal," while G. M. Bellanca, airplane designer, believes seadromes practical commercially. Edward R. Armstrong, inventor of the seadrome, claims the use of seadromes would insure the safety of trans-Atlantic passengers and enable planes to more than double the pay load. German experts assert that before the string of seadromes is completed new developments in aero engines will make them obsolete.

Gregg, William Hinkle, Dickie Messick, Charles Pettibone, Junior Toole and Charles Ward.

For the third month of the school year grade eight and the Sophomore class of the high school made the best attendance records, the former with a mark of 97.8 per cent and the latter with 98.2 per cent. The eighth grade also made 100 per cent in punctuality. In the high school the Freshmen and Juniors led in this respect with only three tardy marks each.

Due to the fact that Charles Morrison, the Juniors' secretary moved away the society held a meeting Friday to elect a new secretary. Earl Boyer was elected.

The Universal Producing Company is sponsoring a play entitled 'The World Is All Right' which is to be given at the Ashville high school auditorium Friday, Dec. 8, at 8 p. m. Local talent has been selected from Circleville for the cast. Admission 10c-25c.

WALNUT-TWP SCHOOL NOTES

Dr. Beal, county health doctor, was here Monday and Tuesday of last week. He immunized the first, second and third grades against Diphtheria. Any parents whose children were not yet attending school were urged to bring them for the test and immunization.

We have back with us once more an old reliable friend, Mark Dunkle. This is the third attempt he has made for Walnut and we are hoping this one is good.

The boys absences were 8 days, making a percentage of 98.

The girls' absences were 8 days making a percentage of 99.

Lets all forget our troubles and care and spend an evening of fun and laughter with the Walnut-Twp F. F. A. boys. They are putting on a minstrel the second week in December, the 14th, and is it a scream! You know with a county fair and a master of ceremonies it just can't go wrong. When the boys get all blackened and take on the negro spirit, it makes the rest of us feel just like we were down south a pickin' cotton with 'em. So let's all come to see the boys in their latest performance. Watch the news for further announcements.

Friday, Nov. 24 the second six weeks tests were given, to find out what impression the teachings of the period had made upon the minds of the students.

Several teachers reported that this year's classes are farther along in the study than last year classes were at the end of the second six weeks.

The senior Literature class had completed oral book reports. They have begun the study of Nathaniel Hawthorne and will read his novel "The Scarlet Letter."

The Freshman English and Science and the Senior Law and Economics class are reviewing six weeks work in preparation for exams.

The Walnut boys basketball outfit is coming along nicely with several new candidates showing good ability for passing and shooting. Among these Link Brown is probably the most outstanding so far and will without a doubt make the squad. There is also the possibility of a permanent varsity berth for him. The position at center is still in doubt with Scholer, Bausum, Peters and Sampson trying to fill the gap left by Charles Brown last year.

Wayne Brown, Walnuts all county guard is suffering from a sprained finger.

The girls basketball unit practiced behind locked doors with the coach keeping all information as to their progress to herself.

Walnut has a short schedule of only six games this year which are as follows:

Dec. 9, Muhlenburg at Walnut.
Dec. 15, Monroe at Williamsport.
Jan. 13, Open.
Jan. 12, Jackson at Walnut.
Jan. 19, Deercreek at Williamsport.
Jan. 26, Open.
Feb. 2, Darby at Darby.
Feb. 9, Perry at Walnut.

Jury Studying Fate Of Negro

DECATUR, Ill., Dec. 1.—A tense atmosphere today awaited the verdict of twelve rugged hill-men regarding the fate of Heywood Patterson, one of seven negro defendants in the third trial of the Scottsboro case.

Patterson was sentenced to death for alleged participation in a mass attack on two white girl-hoboes in the town of Eufaula, Alabama, in 1931. Patterson faces death in the electric chair if the jury returns a verdict guilty.

Tested Choir to Help 'World's All Right'

A splendid choir of the best voices chosen from the various churches in town will appear in one scene of "The World's All Right," the community show which is to be staged at the Grand Opera House next Wednesday and Thursday night under the auspices of the Pickaway County schools. No really up-to-date radio studio without a large mixed chorus of voices who will attend "The World's All Right" will find that this show is being put in the studios of the W-A-R broadcasting studio by a well-trained group who will appear in choir vestments and give interludes of selected sacred songs and anthems. E. S. Meier will give a dramatic scene; the others taking part are Kathryn Marion, Charlotte Linbauer, Marie Richy, Mrs. George Hinson, Miss Kitty Meier, Robert Bower, Miss Martha, Miss Merle Reid, Miss Mildred Barthelmas, Mrs. Alonzo, Mrs. Constance Hinson, Mrs. Veronica Kuhns, Joseph Hinch, Dewitt Bach, Joseph Burns, Hegele, Thomas Drum, Malcolm Russell, Wendell Boyer, Frank Marion, George Hinson, S. Chambers, and Marion Sensenbrenner.

Questions and Answers

When is it proper to use a tumbler and when should a goblet be used?

A plain, ordinary, unadorned tumbler is perfectly proper for the daily breakfast at home, but the formal company breakfast calls for something extra in a tumbler, such as a play foot, a bulge or two, or a band of ribbing. The plain tumbler, that is taller and more slender than the common glass, is used for sparkling beverages, such as champagne or charged water.

For a luncheon the footed tumbler is used, or the glass may be footed glass, one with the foot at the bottom. The luncheon glass may be a goblet with a short stem, or if iced tea served, the tall tumbler with a foot or a coaster is used.

The full-fledged goblet, tall, graceful, long-stemmed and aristocratic-looking is correctly used for a formal dinner, and when the dinner is formal, no compromise is permitted.

What is a rolled pecan nut wafer? How is it made?

The recipe for rolled pecan nut wafers makes a cookie that is rolled immediately on taking it from the oven. It hardens quickly and makes a candy-like cookie of which children seem to be particularly fond.

Roll Pecan Nut Wafers

- 1/2 C. shortening
- 1 C. sifted brown sugar
- 2 eggs, beaten until light
- 4 level Tbsp. flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 C. fine chopped pecan meats
- 1/2 tsp. vanilla extract

Cream shortening and sugar, add eggs, flour, and salt and mix thoroughly; then add nut meat and vanilla. Drop by rounding spoonfuls on greased baking sheets, and with the back of the spoon spread as thin as possible. Bake about 8 minutes in an oven at 325 degrees. Roll at once on taking them from the oven in a tightly closed tin utensil.

Meanings of Kitchen Terms

A la Creole—means according to Creole cookery, characterized by the use of tomatoes and delicious pungent seasonings. In the case of soups, creole means topped off with chocolate.

Broccoli—is a vegetable that most commonly appears in the green sprouts, broccoli or broccolini. It should be cooked and served like asparagus, boiled or otherwise the tiny buds will fall away. Short time cooking is important also.

Roast Nuts for Holiday Festivities

Put a vegetable oil or butter in the bottom of a shallow pan to the depth of about 1/2 inch. Put the nuts to be roasted in the pan, drizzle them lightly with oil and stir them in the fat. Place in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) to heat thoroughly and brown lightly. The time required will be about 10 minutes. Walnuts, pecans, Brazil nuts, and filberts are good roasted this way. Toasted almonds are especially delicious.

To remove the brown skin of the nuts before roasting them, or cooling water over them, stand a minute and with a soft cloth rub off the skins. Allow the shelled nuts to dry before substituting them to roasting.

With anxiety heightened by lynching in California and Missouri this week, fears were openly expressed here that violence might result should the negro be acquitted of the charge which is considered graver than murder in the south with its ever-present racial problem.

PRISONER GUARDED

Outwardly, Decatur was tranquil and authorities were skeptical of possible trouble. Nevertheless, thirty armed deputies, half of them brought here from Birmingham, stayed on guard during the night at the county jail and did sentry duty in and around the courthouse this morning. Spectators entering the small courtroom were "frisked" before being admitted.

Persons of secret meetings in which fiery crosses were burned came from Huntsville, home of Victoria Price and Ruby Bates, alleged victims of the attack, but were unconfirmed after a careful check by International News Service.

Circuit Judge W. W. Callahan, presiding at the trials, declared the people of Morgan-co would abide by the court decision and that local police authorities were adequate to assure protection to the defendants.

Deliberations were resumed this morning by the jury trying Patterson after the panel had been locked up in a hotel last night with instructions not to discuss the case until today. When the jurors were locked up they had weighed the evidence for three hours without reaching a verdict.

Meantime that state moved swiftly to re-try Clarence Norris, second of the defendants. The first venire of 100 prospective jurors virtually exhausted by illness or opinion, a second venire was to be examined this forenoon with prospects of a jury being selected by noon or shortly later.

Another fine thing about the rural life is that you can't hear the neighbor's daughters cultivate their musical talent.

Convicted Lawyer

Convicted of aiding and abetting some of the transactions that were responsible for the collapse of the Bank of the United States, Isidor Kresel, noted New York lawyer, is pictured leaving New York Supreme Court after he had been sentenced to 18 months in Sing Sing prison.

"HAD CONSTIPATION SINCE BIRTH OF MY FIRST CHILD"

Then Mrs. King Discovered ALL-BRAN

We quote from her voluntary letter:

"I have suffered from terrible constipation since the birth of my first child—9 years ago! I have tried everything and nothing has any lasting results. Very reluctantly I tried your 'ALL-BRAN' with no faith in it at all. Much to my surprise, I have not had to take any medicine since starting to use ALL-BRAN 4 months ago."—Mrs. Doris E. King, 16 Abbey Road, Oxford, England.

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN contains two things which overcome constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Certainly this is more natural than taking patent medicines—often harmful. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Back to Small Factories

HENRY Ford predicts that within 10 years the work

now done by a few large industrial plants will be done by hundreds of small factories scattered up and down the country. The depression has revealed the weakness of the economic system which called for vast factories clustered around a few great cities.

Mills and factories representing investments running into the millions have been entirely shut down since the depression, not because there were no orders, but because there were no orders large enough to make the opening of such large institutions profitable. The few small plants which survived the era of mass production consolidation and expansion lived through the lean years on business the big boys could not handle.

As a result of this sudden reversal of trends labor has trickled back into the small cities and towns and to the farm. The big industrial centers have lost much of their man-power and now are losing their factories to the country, where production will be on a smaller scale but close to the labor supply and to local markets.

This may seem like going backward, since our industrial system was built on many small factories, whereas it is really the correction of an error in judgment. Consolidation and expansion proceeded too rapidly. Distribution could not keep pace with them. Turning the work back to where factory and farm are wedded may solve some of the most perplexing problems of our times.

French are building houses with straw. Peasants who live in straw houses should not keep cows.

Friendless Japan

AMONG the silent protestants against American recognition of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics was Japan, for the reason that if there is anything

Tokio fears more than Moscow it is Moscow recognised by Washington.

Another fact in connection with recognition is that Moscow resisted recognition by Washington for the psychological effect it would have on imperialistic Japan.

The fact that Washington looked with disfavour upon the Japanese occupation of Manchuria and division of China and joined with the League of Nations in protest tells Japan that her Far East policy as regards Russia will find no sympathy on this side of the Pacific.

The purpose of Moscow and the trend of thought in Russia are immediately apparent. The first

Soviet ambassador to Washington is M. Troysanovsky, who was ambassador in Tokio for five years and is an expert on Japanese af-airs. The state department is sure to get an earful on Japanese ambitions and encroachments.

Japan now occupies the unenviable position in world affairs

the United States had before 1929.

Recent world trade accessions have brought with it unpopularity and distrust. If the Japs get into trouble now, they can count on little outside help.

No one has yet suggested taxing of the radio announcer. Possibly this would be an effective way to limit his blab, blab.

The beer business is in a slump.

Due, no doubt, to its high price and high taxes. Possibly it could be revived by a return to the pre-war status of price.

The business depression has succeeded in bringing back a palatable smoke for a nickel but the problem now is where can one get the nickel to buy a good five-cent cigar.

Uncle Sam is to cut out the frills in constructing new post offices. This will not mean, though, there will be less eagerness on the part of politicians to occupy them.

CHAPTER FORTY-SIX

So they started to work right away and planned as they went. They would clean the paper in the front room and the dining room and fix up the front bed room upstairs which Mom 'n Pop used, and Tom and his friend could use it as the bed was nice and wide and plenty big enough for two. They were so busy that they forgot about lunch and Uncle Louie went around with a long face when he came in and there was nothing to eat; but Mom cut him off short and opened a can of baked beans and told him to get it up himself, which he did, grumbling all the time until Cousin Emmy lost her patience and told him he ought to be glad to get that. Then Mom told him he'd have to sleep on the couch in the sitting room while Tom and his friend were there so Pop could use his bed; and that insulted him, he grumbled until Cousin Emmy told him to shut up. So he went out mad.

When Pop came in from work, Mom got him a short order and he was real nice about it and turned in, and tried to help but Pop was never much good around the house so Mom sent him after the groceries. Cousin Emmy didn't even go home to get supper for her man but said he could get something for himself as he was used to it, which was a fact, goodness knows, because Cousin Emmy was one of that kind which got to talking places and forgot to get home; but Emmy's was a dumb kind of a man and never complained.

Pete and Steve stopped in that night from the garage and pitched right in and helped with the work and had a lot of fun cleaning the paper and themselves, too. Pete made Mom stop but she went to the kitchen and made some hot cocoa and gave them some of the cakes Pop had brought home—he always brought home some of them when he went to the store—but Steve said chocolate and cakes were for the women and children so, when they had finished, she and Pete went to the kitchen and cooked some bacon and eggs; and Uncle Louie, who had been grump- ing in his room, smelled them and came down and helped them eat.

Mom was up early the next day and started to work again but Pop told her to hold her horses and take it easy because Tom wasn't bring- ing the Prince of Wales home and there was no use of her killing her- self; but Mom kept tidying around anyhow and, as soon as Pop and Pete were off at work, she got busy on the windows and polished them until she could see through them like spectacles; and Cousin Emmy came over again and they cleaned and shined everything and got the table ready and all the time Cousin Emmy was busy guessing what movie actor Tommy was bringing home.

Finally it got to getting around noon and Mom stopped to get her- self dressed and do what she could with her hands which were red and raw again from all the scrubbing. She put on her blue flat cap and Cousin Emmy had brought over her flowered chiffon, which was over- doing it, but there was nothing Mom could say because Cousin Emmy had been so good about everything.

Then they set the table and got it ready for the evening meal and Mom kept moving things around to make it just right, changing the dish of preserves so it would cover the worn spot on the table cloth and moving the pickles Tommy liked right in front of his plate. There was still a bare spot and she opened a jar of relish. Then she went to the store and no sooner had she stepped in the door than Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Flannigan were right after her and Mom could see they were almost as excited as she was; but she didn't take much time to talk to them; although she did have to laugh when Butcher Brown told her not to forget to tell Tommy about get- ting a job in the movies for Albert, his cat. And Albert seemed to know they were talking about him be- cause he got up and started to box with Butcher Brown. Albert was a real cute cat.

Then Mom went home and she and Cousin Emmy put on their aprons and trussed the chicken, made the dressing and stuffed it, and got it ready to slip in the oven; and Mom hoped Uncle Louie wouldn't get grabbing the white meat the first thing because Tom- my always liked it best and his friend should have some, too. She thought it would be nice if Pop would carve and serve, then Tom- my and his friend would be sure to get the best cuts because Pop wasn't selfish; but Pop always kicked like a steer when she asked him to serve. She would have liked to have given Uncle Louie a talk- ing to beforehand but she was afraid, if she did, he'd be sure to get insulted and do something awful.

Mom was worried to death. It would be a job to get Pop to put on a white shirt and collar and to keep him from saying "pass the pump"; and Uncle Louie would be sure to start some kind of an argu- ment and goodness knows what Cousin Emmy would be doing or saying because the poor thing was flighty already because a real movie actor was going to be there. Then, while Mom was thinking, up came a roar from outside and she looked out and there was Tom- my sitting in a swell car, looking in at the window and smiling. Another boy was with him and he was smiling too.

"It's Tommy!" Mom cried shrilly, running for the door. "It's Jack Devere!" Cousin Emmy called, running after her. Tommy had appeared tired, Mom thought, but how grand he looked, sitting there stretching in the seat, his face red and brown, brown from the California sunshine and red from the wind because the car was open. He wore a stylish yellow coat and a cap to match.

"Hy, Mom," he said, just like before he went to college; and he hopped out and put his strong arms around her and kissed her and Mom hoped everybody behind all the blinds along the street was

Bursitis Is Medical Name For "Housemaid's Knee"

It's Serious and Should Not Be Neglected, Says Authority, Telling of Symptoms

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health,
New York City

Dr. Copeland

As its name implies, chronic bursitis is an inflammation of the membrane surrounding the knee joint. Each joint of the body is surrounded by a bag or cap called a bursa. Within the bursa is the "synovial fluid" which makes possible easy motion of the joint. The synovial fluid is in reality a lubricating substance.

Football Players Subject to It

This form of inflammation, or bursitis, can usually be traced to a blow, a fall or some prolonged irritation. This explains the common occurrence of the disorder among scrub women and housemaids, whose constant kneeling for floor cleaning sets up an irritation of the membrane covering the joint. Football players and other athletes may develop this disorder when they receive severe blows or injuries of the knee joint.

Rest in bed is the most beneficial treatment. The knee should be placed in a well-padded splint. The swelling can often be lessened by the application of ice bags. Some cases are benefited by a hot poultice or wet dressing.

Though rest is very helpful, it is always best to seek medical advice. It may be necessary to "tap" the swollen joint and draw off some of the accumulated fluid. When pus is present, an operation is necessary. Do not hesitate if this is advised. It is a simple procedure and need cause no alarm.

Massage Is Helpful

The tissues are punctured and all the pus is evacuated. Further accumu- lation of pus is prevented by the insertion of one or two temporary drains within the wound. When pus no longer forms, the infection clears up and the drains are removed. Often, after the acute pain and discomfort disappear, the knee is still stiff and difficult to move. For this reason gentle massage of the weakened knee is advised. Occasion- ally, baking or electrical treatment is recommended to restore the nor- mal motion and nimbleness of the joint.

Never neglect bursitis. Bear in mind that an acute inflammation of the knee joint responds to treatment, while a chronic inflammation is diffi- cult to cure. Prompt attention saves many days of unnecessary suffering.

Answers to Health Queries

Thank You. Q.—What causes trench mouth and what do you ad- vise for it?

A.—This is due to infection. Have your doctor outline the proper treat- ment.

M. G. Q.—What do you advise for a discharging ear?

A.—This condition should have proper medical attention. It would be well to consult an ear specialist. (Copyright, 1933, K. F. S., Inc.)

In his message to the Illinois legisla- ture asking for unemployment relief funds, Governor Horner ad- vised that the "cost of such re- lief would be far cheaper than the cost of calling out troops to quell food riots." Senate Progressives have been quietly exchanging views on the amount of addition- al public works funds to be sought at the coming session of Congress. Their estimates range from two to five billion dol- lars, with most of them favoring the larger sum. Washington's hard-hitting, liberal Senator Homer T. Bone, during a recent visit to the Capital, told Administration leaders that the West favored more and larger public work grants. Unemployed needy will get well acquainted with the bean counter. The Federal Emer- gency Relief Administration will buy 5,000,000 pounds of dry beans for distribution through state and local agencies.

PLAN HUGE WINTER FARM AT ASHTABULA

ASHTABULA—The largest winter-growing vegetable farm in the world may be created in fer- tile northeastern Ohio. Eastern chain store interests are planning to expend between $7,000,000 and $11,000,000 to ac- quire greenhouse properties throughout this section of the state. News of the plans of the chain store was revealed for the first time when it was learned that the Joseph Larange, Inc., retail estate brokerage firm, had obtained op- tions on 18 large greenhouse prop- erties valued at more than $2,000,000. It was reliably reported that the eastern capitalists would throw from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000 more into the venture in order to buy up the majority of "glass" in the Cleveland-Ashtabula area. Members of the Larange firm would not discuss the plans.

YOUNGSTOWN READY FOR HOUSING PLAN

YOUNGSTOWN—This city is awaiting the signal which will start it on a $3,000,000 housing project similar to others planned throughout the nation. Fifteen hundred men will be provided employment for a year as the work of eliminating slum areas proceeds with a 30 per cent outright federal grant and a 70 per cent loan to be repaid from housing revenue after the project is completed. Only approval of the State Housing Commission stands in the way of letting bids on construc- tion work. Mayor Mark E. Moore announced.

DREAM COMES TRUE FOR STENOGRAPHER

ALLIANCE—Realizing a dream she nurtured ever since she be- came Municipal court steno- grapher in 1918, Elsie Whitting- ham will take office as city solicitor January 1.

Not only is Miss Whittingham the first woman to hold that posi- tion, but she is the first Democrat chosen for it. In 1925, "Elsie," as she is familiarly known, passed the state bar examination and was elected city auditor by a narrow margin of votes. She held that post—the first woman to do it—for six years, but she aspired to the solicitorship and capped the elec- tion several weeks ago.

It Was Coming to a Head

A DRAMA league in a New England city was formed for the purpose of taking itself seriously and having a chance to mix with actors in other words, it was a regulation league. The society learned that well-known writer for the stage was to be in town on the night of the next supper and got his written acceptance to attend. On arrival he fell in with some low-lives and fell hard. He walked into the sup- per, convoyed by two companions a bit groggy. In due time the president arose and felicitated the company on the treat in store and then introduced the visiting lion. The latter surveyed the party before speaking. His comple- address was as follows: "I am told this is an Ibsen gathering. If that is a fact, I think ought to be lanced!" In Memory

Written on the one-hundred and tenth anniversary of the founding of the Presbyterian Church, Circleville, O.

I saw an altar banked in golden flame
From tips of many tapers.

Memory
Had touched each light with thought of love. There came Before my inmost soul the pageantry

Of years. A circling village grown around
A sturdy fort within a wilderness

A fort that topped an ancient builders' mound.

I sensed the dreams of pioneers, the stress

Of early days, the bold and fearless heart,

The forward-looking face, the feet that ran

On new-made trails; the strength that dared to part

The forest for the onward march of Man.

The tapers wavered in a fitful gust,
I pondered, "Does the past but end in — dust?"

And then I sensed a brighter, finer thing:

The candles blended in a soft white glow

And in my soul the silence seemed to sing

With Beauty such as man can seldom know.

I saw the years' procession slowly glide,
Not as a changing seasons rolling on

Into infinitude, but as a tide

Of spirit light more fair than earthly dawn;

And from that light a thought came gleaming through.

"They are not dead; decay no spirit mars.

They live and breathe and touch the hands of you.

For Love and Faith are deathless as the stars."

I saw once more an altar banked in flame

And in my heart I breathed One Holy Name.

Plans to Put America A-Wing

EUGENE VIDAL

With plans for construction of 6,000 new airports throughout the nation included in the Public Works re-employment program, Eugene Vidal, director of aeronautics at the Department of Commerce, recently announced a plan, the goal of which is production of 10,000 low-priced airplanes by next Spring to make use of the new airports. To this end he has sent questionnaires to 34,000 flying enthusiasts in an effort to determine the extent of the market for planes to cost $700 or less. The result of this survey will be made available to the aviation industry, and manufacturers, assured of a market for their product, can turn out the low-priced craft. The present so-called "flier plane" sells for less than $2,000, but mass production would probably greatly lower its cost.

CANALS AID OHIO

COLUMBUS—Although the last boat trip over Ohio canals was made in 1912, and although only 178 miles of canals remain out of an original network of 690 miles, the canals are still the largest single revenue producer owned by the state.

Each year an average of $315,000 comes to the state from the leases of canal property and from the sale of water rights. In the best years of the system, from 1940 to 1950, when the canals were operating as a prime factor in boosting Ohio's commerce, the revenues averaged $368,000 per year. The money came from boat operating permits and charges made on tonnage loads.

Also, the state has saved six important reservoirs, now valued at $10,000,000, which were originally built as a part of the canal development. The reservoirs are Indian Lake, Lake Lorain, Buckeye Lake, Portage Lakes, Guilford Lake, and Lake St. Marys. The latter at one time the largest artificial body of water in the world, covering some 15,000 acres.

The agitation for a state system of waterways was started in 1806 by Judge Ethan Allen Brown of Cincinnati, the "Father of Ohio Canals." The system, when completed in 1847, contained 813 miles of waterway, constructed at a cost of nearly $16,000,000. The state still owns 690 miles of the artificial water lanes, having sold the remainder for $2,257,487. Only 178 miles of actual canals are left.

When the canal boats became extinct the canals were placed under the bureau of public works and the head of the department was to hold office for one year, to be re-appointed or dismissed at the end of each term according to the governor's will. T. S. Brindle of Ashland is now serving under Governor George White, and the industrial water contracts keep the department almost as busy as when the canal boats were plying back and forth with regular cargoes.

CHURCHES OBSERVE THANKSGIVING DAY

A splendid congregation observed Thanksgiving at the Methodist Episcopal church, Thursday morning, when Rev. E. S. Toensmeier of the Presbyterian church delivered an excellent sermon. The occasion was the Union service of local churches.

Other ministers who took part were Rev. Herman A. Sayre of the M. E. church, Rev. T. C. Harper of the United Brethren church and Rev. R. Tibbs Maxey of the Church of Christ.

Music was provided by the M. E. church choir directed by Mrs. James P. Moffitt and accompanied by Hunter Chambers.

Dr. C. J. Troutman conducted a splendid Thanksgiving service at Trinity Lutheran church. The church's choir, accompanied by Carl Palm provided music.

CANTON, O., WOMAN DEMO. LEADER, DIES

Mrs. Josephine McGowan, Friend of Roosevelt, Smith, Dies in Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—Death today had taken one of Ohio's most prominent women political leaders.

Failing to recuperate following an operation for appendicitis, Mrs. Josephine McGowan of Canton, chief of the newly-established minimum wage division for women and children in the industrial relations department, died yesterday afternoon in Mt. Carmel hospital.

Mrs. McGowan, who was 47, was a noted figure in state and national Democratic politics. She was the wife of Frank McGowan, a member of the state board of real estate examiners.

Death came to Mrs. McGowan yesterday following an operation for appendicitis with which she was stricken last October 14 while she was attending a convention of state minimum wage executives called by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins in Chicago.

News of the death of Mrs. McGowan came as a shock to state-house and political circles here where she was well known. A personal friend of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred Smith, Mrs. McGowan was three times a delegate to the national Democratic convention. In 1928 she seconded the nomination of Alton Pomerene for president and also wise the nomination of Governor George White at the Chicago convention last year.

HOOVER AND ROLPH TRADE BITTERNESS

Ex-President Attacks Lynching, Governor Recalls Bonus Army Eviction.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—Aftermath of the lynching by a San Jose mob of Thomas Thurmou and Jack Holmes for the kidnapping and murder of Brooke Hart, 22, former President Herbert Hoover and Gov. James Rolph, Jr., today were engaged in a bitter controversy.

Gov. Rolph publicly approved the lynchings as "a good job," and started a dispute that flared across the country.

The sensational exchange between the ex-president and the California governor followed a statement of 25 prominent citizens including Mr. Hoover who rebuked the governor's stand on the lynchings.

Gov. Rolph immediately struck back with a criticism of the ex-president's "good job" statement. He said that during President Hoover's term of office, Gov. Rolph claimed that his action in refusing to send troops to San Jose to protect the kidnappers was justified in contrast with the bonus marchers incident in the national capital.

Mr. Hoover broke the Thanksgiving calm at Palo Alto by issuing his first public statement since he was retired from the presidency, charging Gov. Rolph with "gross ignorance of the facts," and defending his action in the bonus army eviction.

In Memory

Written on the one-hundred and tenth anniversary of the founding of the Presbyterian Church, (Circleville, O.)

I saw an altar banked in golden flame

From tips of many tapers.

Memory Had touched each light with thought of love. There came

Before my inmost soul the pageantry

Of years. A circling village grown around

A sturdy fort within a wilderness

A fort that topped an ancient builders' mound.

I sensed the dreams of pioneers, the stress

Of early days, the bold and fearless heart.

The forward-looking face, the feet that ran

On new-made trails; the strength that dared to part

The forest for the onward march of Man.

The tapers wavered in a fitful gust;

I pondered, "Does the past but end in - - - dust?"

And then I sensed a brighter, finer thing;

The candles blended in a soft white glow

And in my soul the silence seemed to sing

With Beauty such as man can seldom know.

I saw the years' procession slowly glide,

Not as a changing seasons rolling on

Into infinitude, but as a tide Of spirit light more fair than earthly dawn; And from that light a thought came gleaming through. "They are not dead; decay no spirit mars. They live and breathe and touch the hands of you, For Love and Faith are deathless as the stars."

I saw once more an altar banked in flame

And in my heart I breathed One Holy Name.

Work vs. Genius

The earlier we learn that work is a more reliable tribute than genius, the sooner we lay a firm foundation for our own advancement.

Plans to Put America A-Wing

With plans for construction of 6,000 new airports throughout the nation included in the Public Works re-employment program, Eugene Vidal, director of aeronautics at the Department of Commerce, recently announced a plan, the goal of which is production of 10,000 low-priced airplanes by next Spring to make use of the new airports. To this end he has sent questionnaires to 34,000 flying enthusiasts in an effort to determine the extent of the market for planes to cost $700 or less. The result of this survey will be made available to the aviation industry, and manufacturers, assured of a market for their product, can turn out the low-priced craft. The present so-called "flivver plane" sells for less than $2,000, but mass production would probably greatly lower its cost.

Goose Dinner Spread At Elks on Thursday

George Foerst and Wallace Crist entertained a number of their friends to a roast goose dinner at the Elks club Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. Enjoying the dinner prepared by James Carpenter and Sennet Cryder were A. J. Lyle, A. C. Cook, M. Carpenter, Mr. Cryder, K. J. Herrmann, Charles Roof, George Weller, Harry Lewis, D. S. Dunlap, Robert Young, Ed. Shanton, Harold Hott and the hosts.

CANALS AID OHIO

COLUMBUS—Although the last boat trip over Ohio canals was made in 1912, and although only 178 miles of canals remain out of an original network of 690 miles, the canals are still the largest single revenue producer owned by the state.

Each year an average of $315,000 comes to the state from the leases of canal property and from the sale of water rights. In the best years of the system from 1840 to 1850, when the canals were operating as a prime factor in boosting Ohio's commerce, the revenues averaged $368,000 per year. The money came from boat operating permits and charges made on tonnage loads.

Also, the state has saved six important reservoirs now valued at $10,000,000 which were originally built as a part of the canal development. The reservoirs are Indian Lake, Lake Lorain, Buckeye Lake, Portage Lakes, Guilford Lake, and Lake St. Mary's. The latter at one time the largest artificial body of water in the world, covering some 15,000 acres. The agitation for a state system of waterways was started in 1806 by Judge Ethan Allen Brown of Cincinnati, the "Father of Ohio Canals." The system, when completed in 1847, contained 813 miles of waterway, constructed at a cost of nearly $16,000,000. The state still owns 690 miles of the artificial water lanes, having sold the remainder for $2,257,487. Only 178 miles of actual canals are left.

When the canal boats became extinct the canals were placed under the bureau of public works and the head of the department was to hold office for one year, to be re-appointed or dismissed at the end of each term according to the governor's will. T. S. Brindle of Ashland is now serving under Governor George White, and the industrial water contracts keep the department almost as busy as when the canal boats were plying back and forth with regular cargoes.

CHURCHES OBSERVE THANKSGIVING DAY

A splendid congregation observed Thanksgiving at the Methodist Episcopal church, Thursday morning, when Rev. E. S. Toensmeyer of the Presbyterian church delivered an excellent sermon. The occasion was the Union service of local churches.

Other ministers who took part were Rev. Herman A. Sayre of the M. E. church, Rev. T. C. Harper of the United Brethren church and Rev. R. Tibbs Maxey of the Church of Christ.

Music was provided by the M. E. church choir directed by Mrs. James P. Moffitt and accompanied by Hunter Chambers.

Dr. G. J. Troutman conducted a splendid Thanksgiving service at Trinity Lutheran church. The church's choir, accompanied by Carl Palm provided music.

DELAWARE COUNTY FARMER IS KILLED

DELAWARE, Dec. 1.—Wello Heminger, 60-year-old farmer of Delaware-co, was instantly killed early today when his automobile crashed into an abutment at Utley's Corners on State Route 61. Heminger is survived by his wife and two children.

It was towed to the Elmer Clifton garage.

CANTON, O., WOMAN DEMO. LEADER, DIES

Mrs. Josephine McGowan, Friend of Roosevelt, Smith, Dies in Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—Death today had taken one of Ohio's most prominent women political leaders.

Failing to recuperate following an operation for appendicitis, Mrs. Josephine McGowan of Canton, chief of the newly-established minimum wage division for women and children in the industrial relations department, died yesterday afternoon in Mt. Carmel hospital.

Mrs. McGowan, who was 47, was a noted figure in state and national Democratic politics. She was the wife of Frank McGowan, a member of the state board of real estate examiners.

Death came to Mrs. McGowan yesterday following an operation for appendicitis with which she was stricken last October 14 while she was attending a convention of state minimum wage executives called by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins in Chicago.

News of the death of Mrs. McGowan came as a shock to state-house and political circles here where she was well known. A personal friend of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred Smith, Mrs. McGowan was three times a delegate to the national Democratic convention. In 1928 she seconded the nomination of Alton Pomeroy for president and likewise the nomination of Governor George White at the Chicago convention last year.

THOMAS BOWMAN CALLED FRIDAY

Thomas Bowman Jr., aged 35, a native of Atlanta, was found dead in bed at his home, 141 W. 6th-st., Columbus, Friday morning. Cause of death was not determined.

Funeral arrangements in charge of C. E. Hill are not complete.

Mr. Bowman was a son of Thomas and Rhuey Holcomb Bowman. His father died last May.

Surviving are his mother, a son, Jackie and the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. Madea Barch, Jackson-twp.; Orville of Bellevue; Blanche of Perry-twp.; Hoyt of Deercreek-twp. and Mrs. Beulah Roop of Columbus.

SCOUTS TO HONOR WILLIAM ROBINSON

Another member of Boy Scout troop No. 107 will be honored Monday at the district banquet at the First Methodist church. He is William Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Robinson, who will become an Eagle scout.

He will be the third Eagle scout in the county. Tom A. Renick and William Weldon being the others. Renick received his award a number of years ago while Weldon was honored in September.

SERVICES HELD FOR JACOB R. SMITH, 62

Funeral services were held Friday at the residence on the Fairfield-Pickaway county line road for Jacob R. Smith, 62, who died Tuesday at Grant hospital. Mr. Smith is a cousin of H. W. Plum, N. Court-st.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, two sisters and six brothers, one of whom is Samuel Smith of Ashville. The other brothers reside in Canal Winchester.

THREE CALLED FOR U. S. COURT JURIES

Joseph R. Noecker and Lee T. Shaner, this city, and Clarence Squires, Ashville, have been drawn on federal juries and are to report in Columbus on December 6. Noecker is a grand juror and the Shaner and Squires are petit jurors.

HOOVER AND ROLPH TRADE BITTERNESS

Ex-President Attacks Lynching, Governor Recalls Bonus Army Eviction.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—Aftermath of the lynching by a San Jose mob of Thomas Thurmmond and Jack Holmes for the kidnaping and murder of Brooke Hart, 22, former President Herbert Hoover and Gov. James Rolph, Jr., today were engaged in a bitter controversy.

Gov. Rolph publicly approved the lynchings as "a good job," and started a dispute that flared across the country.

The sensational exchange between the ex-president and the California governor followed a statement of 25 prominent citizens including Mr. Hoover who rebuked the governor's stand on the lynchings.

Gov. Rolph immediately struck back with a criticism of the eviction of bonus marchers at Washington, D. C., during President Hoover's term of office. Gov. Rolph claimed that his action in refusing to send troops to San Jose to protect the kidnapers was justified in contrast with the bonus marchers incident in the national capital.

Mr. Hoover broke the Thanksgiving calm at Palo Alto by issuing his first public statement since he was retired from the presidency, charging Gov. Rolph with "gross ignorance of the facts," and defending his action in the bonus army eviction.

Police Court

DICK ARRESTED
Robert Dick, Derby, was placed in the county jail Friday, to begin serving a fine of $15 and costs for assault and battery. He was fined in Squire Baughn's court at Derby.

GILMORE FINED
Leonard Gilmore, Darbyville, was fined $10 and costs for obscene language. Wednesday, before Squire Smith at Darbyville. Gilmore's wife denied the charge and was bound to the grand jury.

CITIES SERVICE Oils and Gasolenes

A BITTER winter morning ... a balky motor that won't start. Cranking... teakettle after teakettle of hot water. Finally—you give up in disgust. Does this happen to you every winter?

There's a way out—that thousands of wise motorists are using... sure-fire Cities Service gasoline and free-flowing Cities Service oils. This combination starts stone-cold engines quickly ... every time.

Winter starting troubles cease... you avoid that costly "winter wear" on your motor, battery and starter ... and your temper is saved. A touch on the starter button and your motor leaps to life.

Cities Service oils and gasolenes—when winter comes—are specially refined to meet cold weather conditions. Just the same as all year round they are refined to meet exactly the special climatic conditions in your locality. But don't take our word for it. Drive to the nearest Cities Service station and get these better oils and gasolenes today. Then the next cold morning you'll find our promise is true.

MIAMI WINS FROM CINCI: TITLE SHARED

Buckeye conference championship was divided between the University of Cincinnati and the University of Miami after a bone-rattling contest at Nipper field, Cincinnati, Thursday in which the Ford boys were returned the victors. The final score was 6-2.

Wilton King, Miami, and the latter falling before Ohio University, 6-0. Cincinnati incidentally defeated Ohio U. The Miami touchdown came in the first period after a 45-yard drive with Len Fertig, efficient fullback, providing the power to carry the leather down the field. Lewis went over for the touchdown.

Oldfield New Champ

Here's another speeding Barney Oldfield. However, this Barney does his speeding on "Shanks Pony." He is Bernard E. Oldfield, track star of Alfred University, shown as he crossed the line to win the 6-mile Middle Atlantic Collegiate championship at Van Cortlandt Park, New York.

The game saw action from there until the final period when Carl Williams, Cincinnati guard, broke through to smash Pat Rostbush's line. The ball rolled back over the goal line with three Bearcat men after it, but it turned out of the end zone to prevent a touchdown, giving Cincinnati two points.

The game ended after an exchange of punts. Cincinnati fans were 'on' Dave Reese, Denison official.

FERTIG IS STAR
Fertig was the star offensive performer in the lineup of Coach Frank Wilton while the Williams boys, Carl and Merle, and Freddie Yeager starred for Cincinnati. The Miami tackles, Stewart and Emerick, spent a large part of the afternoon in Cincinnati's backfield.

Unable to get going until the first period, Ohio Wesleyan defeated Western Reserve at Cleveland, Thursday, by a 12-0 score. The Bishop scored first on a pass from John Turley to Paul Schell for a net gain of 56 yards. The second goal came in a 38-yard sprint by Doc Wertz. Fumbles cost each team a touchdown. In the third period, Howard White, whose kicking kept the Reserve team at bay during the day, missed on the 4-yard mark, and later Kremer, reserve back, fumbled on the Bishop 2-yard stripe.

Other football results of Thanksgiving day were:

St. Xavier, 24; Haskell, 13. Colorado, 25; Brown, 0. Cornell, 20; Penn, 12. West Virginia, 7; W. & J., 2. Pitt, 10; Carnegie Tech, 0. W. Va. Wesleyan, 14; Marshall, 6. Kansas, 27; Missouri, 0. Mahoning-co Plans New Home for Poor YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 1.—Aged men, women of Mahoning-co will soon see built for them a $50,000 home which will be also a memorial to a 75-year-old man who struggled alone to make a home for his 95-year-old mother.

In 1813, Sylvester Buckburn died at Campbell, near here. In his will, he directed that his estate be allowed to accumulate until it was large enough to provide a refuge for those aged persons who have no one to care for them.

The trustees of the estate have now announced construction of the first unit will start within a few months. It will be located at Poland, a small village southeast of here.

Its designers have avoided making the home resemble an institution, and included a sun room, reception room, library, tiled bath-rooms, and separate wardrobes for guest rooms.

WHITE MAKES B. A. A. SECOND

Local Gridder Selected By AP; Willis, Yeager, Zintini, Fertig on First.

With Willis of Ohio U. at quarterback, Yeager of Cincinnati and Zontini of Marshall at halfbacks, and Fertig of Miami at fullback, the Associated Press today had announced its 1933 all-Buckeye conference football team.

Howard White, this city, star of the Ohio Wesleyan team, was placed at halfback position on the second team. White's runs and his kicking has featured Wesleyan's season. He has one more year of competition.

The remainder of the first team finds Savatsky of Miami and Ballard of Cincinnati at ends; W. Snyder of Ohio U. and Stewart of Miami at tackles, Priode of Ohio U. and Carl Williams of Cincinnati at guards, and McIlvaine of Ohio Wesleyan at center.

Ohio Wesleyan places two other men on the Buckeye second team. They are Mills at a guard and Belt at an end.

Willis, a Columbus sophomore, has featured Ohio U.'s play. His two goals from placement gave Ohio a victory over Miami when the Ohio offense was unable to move forward against the Miami line after receiving fumbles deep in Miami territory.

SPRINGFIELD 11 WINS SCHOOL GRID CHAMPIONSHIP

Mansfield's Outfit Turns Back Portsmouth; Beat Canton, Mansfield, Too.

By whipping Portsmouth, 20-0, at the Ohio river city, Art Mansfield's Springfield high gridgers have what seems to be a clear cut claim to the mythical Ohio football championship. The team is undefeated and untied and has been scored upon only once.

The Springfield boys met Canton McKinley, victor over many strong opponents, and came through with victory; it scheduled a post season game with Mansfield and has no difficulty in belittling that claim to honors, then it scheduled Portsmouth and won.

Lancaster high school and Columbus East played a thrilling 24-24 tie at Lancaster in a Turkey day game.

There were eight touchdowns counted by the two teams and not a single point after touchdown was scored. Seven touchdowns were scored in the first half and neither team punted during the time.

Hawkins, a colored sophomore, and Poiran featured for Lancaster with Colston and Southworth doing most of the offensive work for East.

Other Ohio high school scores include: Dayton Steele, 9; Dayton Stivers, 0.

Sandusky, 18; Freemont, 0. Toledo Waite, 20; Toledo Scott, 0.

Martin's Ferry 33; Huntington, 0. Wellsville, 0; East Liverpool, 0. Warren, 13; Bellaire, 0. Wheeling, 0; Bellaire, 0.

Watch Used as Compass

A watch can be used as a compass if the sun can be seen, says Pathfinder Magazine. Point the hour hand directly toward the sun and the point halfway between the hour hand and the figure 12 will be due south. (It will be due north if you should happen to be in the southern hemisphere.)

Cadets Look Like Sure Winners Over Irish

There was a time when an Army-Notre Dame battle was a tossup, but the meeting of the two eleven at Yankee Stadium, New York, will probably be a walk-over for the great Army squad. Despite brilliant work of individual stars Notre Dame seems a demoralized team, while the Cadets will be fighting to keep their 1933 record clean. Having gotten over a tough game with Navy the boys from West Point have only to hurdle the Ramblers to close the season unbeaten. Above are some of the stars who will clash.

COSTUMES TO AID COMMUNITY SHOW

There will be twenty girls in the chorus numbers of the big show, "The World's All Right." These girls will wear special costumes for each number and appear in clever numbers which will add color and spice to the show. The names of some of the numbers to be used are, "Whistle and Blow Your Blues Away," "You're In Style When You're Wearing a Smile," "Old-Fashioned Garden," "Wait Till the Cows Come Home" and "Darktown Strutters Ball."

The girls who will appear in these numbers are: Theda Anderson, Mildred Betts, Dorothy Fausnaugh, Regina Mack, Eloise Hatto, Marvene Wallace, Jane Drum, Martha McCrady, Lucille Heise, Ann Lehman, Mary Crites, Jean Moffitt, Ruth Dunlap, Betty Bowsher, Jean Harper, Mary Kennedy, Dorothy Beatty.

A special scene called "Memories" featuring Miss Mildred Barthelmas as the soprano soloist will open the number with a group of love songs, and Mary Ann Sapp, Edna Shaw, Eloise Hatto and Margaret Riegel will be the Colonial Men and Women who were colorful costumes and powdered wigs and do a minuet.

There is also a chorus of singing girls, who are members of the famous Sunshine chorus. They are: Leona Pearce, Ruth Hosler, Lucille McLure, Charlotte Steinhauer, Violet Garrett, Ruth Newland, Mary Coleman, Mary Clifton, Catherine Styers, Eleanor Timmons, Betty Binkley, Mary Westenhaver, Jean Lucas, Rosemary Metzger, Rosemary Neuding, Mary Maxey, Maxine Betts, Dorothy Carter, Alma Hosler, Jessie Drosbach, Faye Elliott, Eleanor Pearce, Mary Hall, Margaret Butler, Martha Rudisile, Helen Colville, and Dorothy Barnes.

Never before has an amateur show been costumed as beautifully here as "The World's All Right." More costumes are furnished than ever before on any production previously staged in this community. The beautifully costumed girls' choruses and other special numbers alone will be worth the price of admission.

LAKE ERIE FALLS

TOLEDO, Dec. 1.—The water-line of Lake Erie dropped from four to five feet this year because of lack of rainfall and an almost constant west wind.

In some districts along the west shore, the lake is dry for a quarter of a mile from the usual beach line.

Washington is now talking about jobs hunting for men. Is there no security left?

Making Long Tests

An experiment undertaken at the University of Wisconsin ten years ago will end in the year 2023. It will determine compression, absorption, freezing and thawing, and expansion properties of different types of concrete. Another test of tensile strength of concrete types, started in 1910, is scheduled to last fifty years.

WHAT ARE THE PURCHASING AGENTS DOING?

EVERY big company has one or more whose entire time is devoted to buying the things which that company needs.

These men are specialists. It is their business to know prices . . . materials . . . sources of supply . . . present and future trends. They are the shrewdest, canniest buyers in the world.

But ALL of us, in a small way, are purchasing agents. We HAVE to buy a certain number of things, if only to keep alive. And most of us aren't very skillful at it. We waste a lot of money. We miss the good bargains. In fact, we could learn a great deal by watching a professional buyer at his work.

At this time, especially, it may be helpful to know what the big purchasing agents are doing. Are they cutting down? Are they opening up? Do they think this is a good time to buy or a bad time? What do they think about the future?

Well, the answer is that they are all buying as fast as they can buy. And they are buying because: THEY KNOW THAT PRICES ARE GOING UP.

"Pig iron has advanced 13%," the purchasing agent of a $20,000,000 corporation recently said. "Brass is up 42 1/2%. I am paying 41% more for lumber than I did in March, and fiber packing cases have doubled in price. In fact, everything we use in this business is costing us more today, and will in my opinion cost us still more tomorrow. I believe . . . that many commodities will be back to or near 1929 levels by spring."

That's the way the professional purchasing agents feel about it. And they KNOW. They have special sources of information. They are closely in touch with industry. They have studied the workings of the NRA codes.

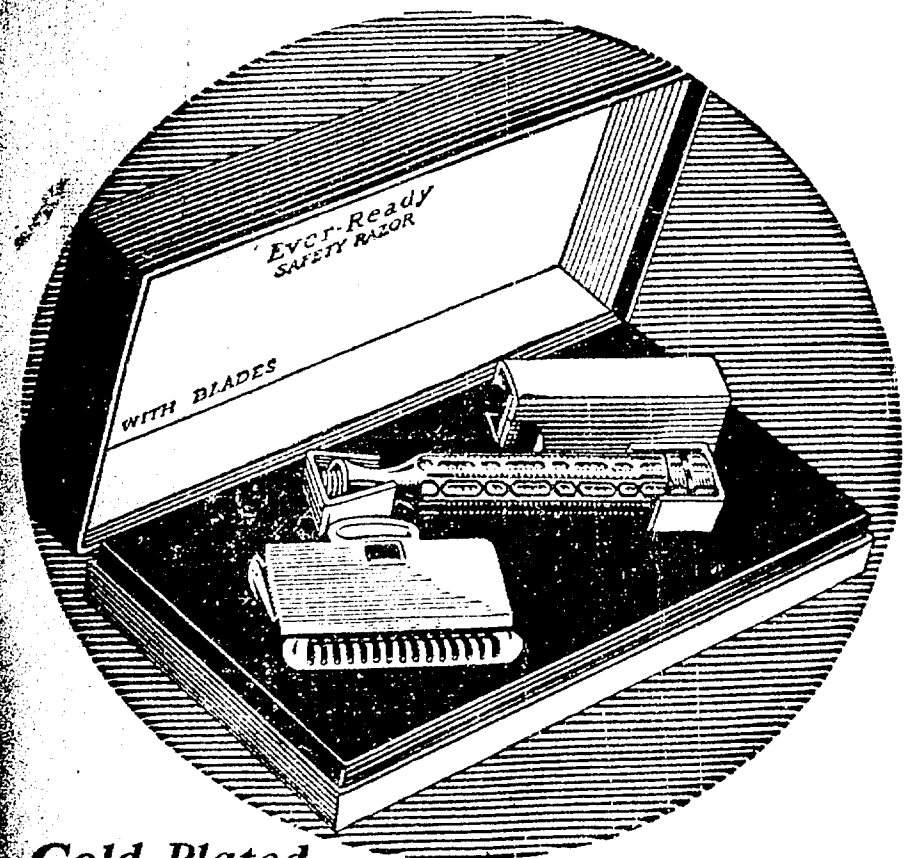

PRICES ARE GOING UP. And it's a good thing for everyone. For things had come to the point where NOTHING had any true value. A man's time . . . his product . . . his property . . . all had sunk so low in value that he couldn't even get a decent living.

That couldn't go on. So the Government set up the machinery of the NRA codes in order to MAKE EVERYTHING WORTH SOMETHING AGAIN.

This process is now under way. Wages are being raised. Commodities are bringing better prices every day. But it is not yet over. Before fair values . . . living values . . . can be reached, prices will have to go higher than they are now.

Before they do, take a leaf from the purchasing agent's book, and lay in a supply of the things you need. There are many good bargains still to be had. But these stocks are strictly limited. NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY.

Mahoning-co Plans

New Home for Poor

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 1.—Aged men, women of Mahoning-co will soon see built for them a $50,000 home which will be also a memorial to a 75-year-old man who struggled alone to make a home for his 95-year-old mother.

In 1813, Sylvester Buckburn died at Campbell, near here. In his will, he directed that his estate be allowed to accumulate until it was large enough to provide a refuge for those aged persons who have no one to care for them.

The trustees of the estate have now announced construction of the first unit will start within a few months. It will be located at Pol-lad, a small village southeast of here.

Its designers have avoided making the home resemble an institution, and included a sun room, reception room, library, tiled bathrooms, and separate wardrobes for guest rooms.

MOVIES

AT THE CLIFTONA

The first great spectacle of modern times, so termed by Cecil DeMille, director, is now to be seen on the screen of the Cliftona Theatre where it will run until Sunday. It is titled "This Day and Age," the story of the struggle of the youth of an average community to oust the town's subversive influences, such as racketeers and gangsters, after all efforts of the adult community have failed.

To imbue his story with the fire of youth, DeMille has brought together a cast of the more expert young players of Hollywood including Richard Cromwell, Eddie Nugent, Ben Alexander, and Judith Allen, one of his own discoveries. Filling the roles of the adult members of the cast are Charles Bickford, Harry Green, Fuzzy Knight, Bradley Page and George Barbier.

MOVIES

AT THE CLIFTONA

The first great spectacle of modern times, so termed by Cecil DeMille, himself, the master of spectacle, is now to be seen on the screen of the Cliftona Theatre where it will run until Sunday. It is titled "This Day and Age" the story of the struggle of the youth of an average community to oust the town's subversive influences, such as racketeers and gangsters, after all efforts of the adult community have failed.

To imbue his story with the fire of youth, DeMille has brought together a cast of the more expert young players of Hollywood including Richard Cromwell, Eddie Nugent, Ben Alexander, and Judith Allen, one of his own discoveries. Filling the roles of the adult members of the cast are Charles Bickford, Harry Green, Fuzzy Knight, Bradley Page and George Barbier.

Ice From Chimney Gases
A white odorless carbon dioxide ice, with a temperature of 100 degrees below zero, is made from chimney gases at a cost of only one cent a pound.
